Fire protection system means any fire alarm device or system, or fire extinguishing device or system, or combination thereof, designed and installed for detecting, controlling or extinguishing a fire or otherwise alerting occupants, the fire department or both that a fire has occurred.

Hazardous means a condition, circumstance, or combination of factors which create a substantial risk or danger of causing damage or injury to persons or property.

High-rise building means a building more than 60 feet in height. Building height shall be measured from the lowest level of fire department vehicle access to the floor of the highest occupiable story.

Immediately hazardous means a hazardous condition which creates a risk of imminent injury or damage to persons and property, such that remedial action cannot reasonably be delayed.

Incident commander means the fire department official in charge of an emergency incident. Isolated storage means storage in a different storage room or in a separate and detached building located at a safe distance.
