PUBLIC COMMENT PERIOD

- 1. Dave LaFontaine, President of Main Street Marshfield, introduced the new Main Street Executive Director, Kim James. He also urged the Council to approve the BID Resolution.
- 2. William Penker of 600 S. Sycamore talked about the dragon sculpture. As on observer looking back on the Councils proceedings, he is hard pressed to see any rationale to their decision making. This was not a quality of life issue. This was not whether citizens would be deprived of a benefit. This was not doing something for children. It appears to be nothing more than a rush to have a statue and in the end it is not even free. Looking towards the budget meetings he is concerned because if the Common Council applies as much wasted time in inane discussion to single issues as was applied to the discussion of the statue, will Marshfield have a budget before the end of the year? And if the Common Council brushes aside staff and mayoral recommendations as easily as the recommendations about the statue were brushed aside, in the end, where is the City heading?
